

Community Through Collaboration

Effective teamwork requires collaboration and the ability to count on colleagues for support and understanding. Collaboration builds a sense of community out of which emerges a powerful energy for pooling resources and ideas to make an organization stronger and more competitive. In this seminar, participants will:

- Identify the characteristics of a collaborative work place culture
- Assess their current workplace culture
- Learn tips for building a more collaborative work environment