TRANSLATING THEORY INTO PRACTICE...

My transition from more than 30 years of cross-border law practice to mediation and arbitration began when I enrolled as an LLM student. Now a full-time mediator/arbitrator, I'm honored as an adjunct professor to be able to share in Straus' commitment of helping students learn to apply techniques and precedent in a practical environment. I am excited about helping Straus explore how to support the mediation and arbitration movements in my native country of the Netherlands and the rest of Europe. For me, Straus really is a place where theory is translated into practice.”
